ASPIRING ENGINEERS SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM
2020

Congratulations!

2020 Scholarship Recipient

Hannah Sanchez

Hi! My name is Hannah Sanchez and I am currently a first year student at Cornell University, planning to major in Biomedical Engineering. I attended Saint Joseph High School in Lakewood, California where I was recognized as an honor student and distinguished scholar. I was the President of the Math Honors Society, and Secretary of the Italian Honors Society my senior year, as well as being a member of the National Honors Society and National Hispanic Honors Society. Outside of school, I was a dedicated rower for the Women's Varsity Crew team for the city of Long Beach from my freshman to senior year, and am continuing my rowing career on the Cornell Varsity Women's team. In addition, I found time to help my community by regularly volunteering for the Ronald McDonald House in Long Beach and Pasadena to prepare meals, and iSanctuary in Irvine, a non-profit organization working against human trafficking.
